All dogs and cats are examined, vaccinated, dewormed, treated with flea preventive, microchipped, and spayed or neutered prior to adoption. See your veterinarian for recommendations about vaccination, deworming, and flea preventive schedules.

- * FVRCP: Cat 3-in-one vaccine (Feline Viral Rhinotracheitis, Calicivirus, Panleukopenia).
- * DAPP: Dog 4-in-one vaccine (distemper, adenovirus-2, parvovirus, parainfluenza virus).
- * Bordetella: Dog intranasal "kennel cough" vaccine (Bordetella bronchiseptica, parainfluenza, adenovirus-2).
- * Rabies: Cat & Dog 1-year Rabies vaccination.
- * Deworm: Pyrantel, a medication which treats common intestinal parasites such as roundworms.

This medication does not treat tapeworms.

- * Advantage II: Advantage is a monthly topical flea treatment.
- * Microchip: a form of identification. It does not replace a license or identification tag. A microchip is about the size of a grain of rice and is injected under the skin between the shoulder blades. The microchip is inactive until it is read with a scanner used by shelters and veterinary clinics. Each microchip produces a unique number when read with a scanner. In order for your pet to be reunited with you, you must register your pet's microchip. Registration can be done for any brand of microchip for free at www.foundanimals.com.
